Randstad's Portuguese subsidiary, one of the largest human resources companies in the world and present in 38 countries, has contracted the notification and registered contracting services of Lleida.net for the management of its labour contracts.

The current circumstances caused by the Covid-19 health pandemic lead to the progressive adoption of registered contracting and notification tools in the human resources segment and in the 'labourtech' where Lleida.net with its worldwide patented services has a prominent role in the markets in which it operates.

We remain at your disposal for any clarifications you may require.
Sincerely,
